101 Things To Do Outside: Loads Of Fantastically Fun Reasons To Get Up, Get Out, And Get Active!

Synopsis

From animal tracking and survival skills to using a compass and growing vegetables, 101 Things to Do Outside is the perfect guide for young explorers and aspiring adventurers longing for a taste of the great outdoors. Right outside your front door, there's a world bursting with adventures just waiting to be explored. This pocket-sized book is overflowing with things to try, do, learn, and remember (plus it has a handy checklist!). Includes helpful step-by-step illustrations and plenty of activities and lessons. Activities include: Outdoor games such as beach basketball and giant chess; Outdoor art projects such as build a hammock and making bark rubbings; Outdoor nature activities such as bug hunting and fossil hunting; Outdoor gardening activities such as planting a boot garden and creating an herb window box; Outdoor exploring activities such as cooking on a campfire and sending message with a flashlight. The fourth installment of the 101 Things series encourages children to step away from the computer screen and experience nature firsthand from their very own backyards.

"101 Things To Do Outside" written by Susan Hayes & designed/illustrated by Shahid Mahmood is a spiral bound book with a hard cover. A fantastic resource for parents, teachers, caregivers & camps. An endless supply of activities, crafts & games. You'll find something for everyone in here. From the very simple "Climb A Tree" to the more intricate "Build A Bucket Pond". My daughter has already started making her to do list which includes making a peanut butter bird feeder & making a bird bath. The book states it's for ages 8+ but I think 5+ is more appropriate & really even children of preschool age could enjoy this book. Most of the activities include items you'd already find in your home which makes prep super easy! I'd call this the perfect "end of year" gift for any elementary school teacher.

As a mom who spends a lot of time outdoors with my children, I am glad to have more ideas of things we can do together. Some of the things can be done easily and some require preparation gathering a few supplies (we don't have powdered cement). I like seeing simple activities and crafts that I had not thought of before and also simple variations of familiar games. I look forward to our family doing these activities together. Once we are done I think we will give this book to our preschool or camp because it would be a great resource for teachers as well.

This is going to be such an amazing to do list for us over the next year! I've looked through and started our to do list! A lot of fun activities that I know my kids will love!

very good for my nature program after school.

My daughter loves this book.
