

The book was found

Roman Crazy

Synopsis

A delicious, sexy, laugh-out-loud modern romance about a newly single woman and her journey to find love again, from New York Times best-selling author Alice Clayton and debut author Nina Bocci. Avery Bardot steps off the plane in Rome, looking for a fresh start. She's left behind a soon-to-be ex-husband in Boston and plans to spend the summer licking her wounds - and perhaps a gelato or two - with her best friend, Daisy. But when her American-expat friend throws her a welcome party on her first night, Avery's thrown for a loop when she sees a man she never thought she'd see again: Italian architect Marcello Bianchi. Marcello was the man - the one who got away. And now her past is colliding with her present, a present where she should be mourning the loss of her marriage and - hey, that fettuccine is delicious! And so is Marcello. Slipping easily into the good life of summertime in Rome, Avery spends her days exploring a city that makes art historians swoon and her nights swooning over her unexpected what was old is new again romance. It's heady, it's fevered, it's wanton, and it's crazy. But could this really be her new life? Or is it just a temporary reprieve before returning to the land of twin-set cardigans and crustless sandwiches? A celebration of great friendship, passionate romance, and wonderful food, Roman Crazy is a lighthearted story of second chances and living life to the fullest.

Book Information

Audible Audio Edition

Listening Length: 9 hours and 31 minutes

Program Type: Audiobook

Version: Unabridged

Publisher: Simon & Schuster Audio

Audible.com Release Date: September 13, 2016

Language: English

ASIN: B01KBCMJLO

Best Sellers Rank: #21 in Books > Audible Audiobooks > Romance > Contemporary #283

in Books > Audible Audiobooks > Fiction & Literature #331 in Books > Romance > Romantic Comedy

Customer Reviews

PJV QUICKIE: Roman Crazy is going on my Top 10 list of favorite books this year. Relatable characters, funny dialogue, and descriptive writing made this a five-star read. As soon as I finished the last page I wanted to start reading it again. Review: Avery Bardot was going through the motions in her staid, predictable life, when she caught her husband cheating on her. Deciding things were not going to change unless she makes the changes herself, a spur-of-the-moment decision to join her friend Daisy in Rome should be just what she needs to pick herself up and get on with her life. What she doesn't expect is to run into Marcello Bianchi, the semester abroad fling that she never forgot. Now, as she takes time to discover the beautiful city of Rome, she rediscovers herself and her love of art. And maybe, she re-discovers how wonderful love can be.~~~~~This is a wonderful second-chance romance but it's so much more than that. I can't say enough wonderful things about Roman Crazy " I really, really enjoyed being in this book. And that's part of what made it so wonderful, I really felt like I was there, with Avery, walking the cobbled streets of Rome, I could almost taste the food and smell the delicious scents. I've never been to Italy, so I can't say if they got everything right, but the descriptions were full and rich and it took no effort on my part to imagine the scenes. Roman Crazy gave me an acute case of wanderlust. A lot of times I like a book because of the hunky hero or love interest. Marcello was a good character, but he wasn't my focus " it was Avery I was cheering for. I love Avery " she's real, not perfect.

Roman Crazy is a splendid Roman immersion with a hint of second chance romance, getting lost and finding your way back home on your own. Avery Bardot-Remington was dealt with a very bad hand when she caught her husband banging his secretary. Because of her polished reputation, knowing people will talk alongside her wanting to get a divorce, an escape to the city where her best friend works as an architect couldn't come at a better time. Only, she's in for a treat when she saw her ex-fling (the part of her past she couldn't seem to let go of) hanging out in the same restaurant they were going as her best friend's colleague. With another woman at his hip. So very cozy. But things are about to get crazy as that past in the person of Marcello Bianchi, swoony Italian architect, came crashing to her life once more. Reading this book was like taking a trip in Rome. The setting was so perfectly written, culturally rich with most pages littered with beautiful places to go, food to try, museums and art galleries to leave you in awe and activities to immerse yourself in. They were intricately described and I swear I have died just imagining their raw and bustling flawlessness. I fell in love with Rome instantly. I almost fell in love with the characters as well. There's Avery, the prim and proper woman who catered her husband's needs first and foremost before herself. And slightly lost herself in the process. That's Boston Avery. Rome Avery, however, was quite different. She seemed so vibrant, full of energy. Rome Avery was full of potential with volunteer restoration work and art classes going on for her. Rome Avery as an individual shone through. But add in a delish Italian, Marcello, and Rome Avery was practically beaming in all angles.

Download to continue reading...

Roman Crazy Crazy at the Cabin: A Cozy Collection of Crazy-Pieced Quilts Pax Romana: War, Peace, and Conquest in the Roman World Destroyer of the gods: Early Christian Distinctiveness in the Roman World Slavery in the Late Roman World, AD 275-425 In the Name of Rome: The Men Who Won the Roman Empire The Roman Emperor Aurelian : Restorer of the World The Final Roman Emperor, the Islamic Antichrist, and the Vatican's Last Crusade Crocodile Legion: A Roman Adventure Systematic Theology: A Roman Catholic Approach The Roman Breviary: in English, in Order, Every Day for September & October 2016 Crazy Cats: Adult Coloring Book Golf Crazy by Gary Patterson 2017 Wall Calendar Crazy Maze Escape! The Nothing but Fun Activity Book Dinosaur Crazy Maze Fun Activity Book Gone Crazy in Alabama Craft Burgers and Crazy Shakes from Black Tap Crazy Water, Pickled Lemons: Enchanting dishes from the Middle East, Mediterranean and North Africa Hand-Stitched Crazy Patchwork Crazy Quilts: A Beginner's Guide

Dmca