Men Who Love Fierce Women: The Power Of Servant Leadership In Your Marriage

Synopsis

â œFive years into â ^wedded bliss,â ™ I confessed to Kim that I no longer loved her. We were stuck in a destructive relationship pattern we now refer to as the â ^fierce woman/fearful manâ ™ cycle, and I had lost all hope for a peaceful marriageâ |â • â " LeRoy WagnerWhat if Iâ ™m laid-back and my wife isâ | not? How can I lead when I feel emasculated? Iâ ™m not sure I love my wife anymore. What happened?If you find yourself asking questions like these, LeRoy can relate. In Men Who Love Fierce Women, he is gut-honest about his failures and frustrations as a husband, the realizations that saved his marriage,* and the requirements God places on every husband, laid-back or not. With their insights combined, Kim and LeRoy equip men to rise up, handle conflict, love their wife, and lead their marriage, regardless of who has the stronger personality.Includes reflection questions at the end of every chapter, plus an appendix for addressing conflict.Â *Kim and LeRoyâ ™s interview on Focus on the Family, in which they discuss their marriage and Kimâ ™s book Fierce Women, aired twice and was voted the #1 segment of 2015, prompting the publication of this book.

I didn't like the title of this book, but when I saw it advertized on a Christian Book website and that it was recommended by Focus on the Family, I decided to take a look at it. Also, quickly finding that this grew out of a succesful book Fierce Women: The Power of a Soft Warrior (True Woman), published four years earlier, it kind of made sense as a sequel to that. Almost immediately, after delving into this, an experience from forty years ago came to mind. Not having been married at the time, but being the manager of a technical software design and development group, one the women I hired was very bright, one of the most thorough developers I had met. She was assertive, and I liked that. Well, I liked that until the first time she challenged me publically in a meeting about an approach I was thinking about to the way we developed our software. It was a resounding, "NO!!!" If I did not respond to that, one-on-one to resolve the issue, I would have lost out on an opportunity to have many bright assertive women work with me and for me for decades now. Just recently, one male colleague mentioned sheepishly, "You've surrounded yourself with some pretty strong women." Yes, I have! and I'm better for it. They are part of the strongest, competent support systems and achievers one could wish for, great friends too. I appreciate them so much! There is this male-female dynamic at work with us. We are different in many ways: physically, psychologically, emotionally, hormonally, and more. Difference is good if we can see it, appreciate it, and work with it.
