â œCat-a-Doodlesâ • is a very cute coloring book filled with adorable cat designs. The designs are all original by artist Jo Toye. This is her first coloring book but I certainly hope it will be followed by more in the future. I have had cats as pets for many years and now that they have all passed on, I think of them all as I color the cat designs in this book. Certainly, as I went through the book, I could easily relate to a number of the kitties as if they were my own. What is different and interesting about the way this book is put together is that there are 24 designs and for the first 21, we are given a second copy. That by itself is not that unusual; however, because the artist chose to make the second copy an enlarged and cropped version of the first, it makes it look and feel like a different coloring experience. The designs are of cute kitties in a variety of situations. They are doing everything from reading books (about training those pesky humans) to cuddling their teddy bears. The designs are detailed and fun but not overly difficult or with tiny spots to color. I didn't need any form of specialty pens, pencils, or markers to color these designs. I've already completed four of the designs and look forward to finishing the rest of the book. I used a variety of alcohol-based markers with the first four designs I will upload as samples.
