Customer Reviews

This review is for the 50 design box set of postcards which you can color. I will address the differences between this and the 30 design postcard glue-bound set towards the end up this review. The silent video with this review will show what is included with this set. This set of 50 loose leaf postcards is based on Millie Marotta's âœTropical Worldâ • which is her beautiful and successful second coloring book adventure. The subject of the postcards are tropical flora and fauna. The cards are all from the book and vary from full designs which have been âœshrunkâ • to fit the new size or which are a subset of the original design (and possibly smaller, too, but not to the same degree as the full designs.) Some of the designs are so small, I must warn that they contain many extremely small and intricate details. So much so, I believe that I will only be able to use a hard lead colored pencil (like Prismacolor Verithins) to get the point I will need to color them. I will attempt to upload two images that demonstrate the âœshrunkenâ • design and the subset design. Unlike the book, the postcards are definitely printed on only one side. The size is perfect for use as a postcard or to color and frame to make small gifts or a collage of prints on a wall. The back of the design is pre-set for postcard information. This set comes in a lovely box which is very nicely made as well. It is a smaller and subset version of the cover of the book – it is beautifully drawn and has touches of color and metallic gold. I will certainly find a use for it once I have finished my cards. My water-based markers did not bleed through this paper. However, my Sharpies (both fine and ultra-fine), Copics, and all other alcohol-based markers did bleed through easily.

Every card is filled, most from edge to edge with artistic, meticulously adorned flora and fauna, each reprinted from the full sized coloring book Tropical World. You will find birds, animals, fish, flowers, leaves and many more decorated with imaginative designs. You will find individual animals and animals surrounded and set in scenes with lush vegetation that fill the pages with flowers, trees, leaves and more. You will not find any duplicates. This is a wonderful large card set, perfect for travel or coloring groups. 1. 50 (6 1/4 x 4 3/8) post card sized illustrations from the full sized coloring book Tropical world. Printed on one side with the back left blank. 2. Two different types of reprints are included, you will find 7 individual animal images that have been reduced in size to fit these cards, and these have tiny details. You will find 43 others where only part of the complete image from the coloring book is printed on the card, these have been cropped to produce pleasing images and maintain the size of the details for ease in coloring. 3. This set contains 50 cards to color; they come in a nice sturdy cardboard box you will want to keep for storage once the cards are gone. 4. These cards do not have a shiny surface, they work well with colored pencils, gel pens and water based ultra fine markers which do not bleed through the paper. 5. The Alcohol based markers I tested Sharpies and Bic leave a slight shadowing on the back of the cards, not enough that will interfere with writing a note and/or addressing these cards. 6. I am adding pictures to help you decide if these postcards are just right for you. 7.
