Customer Reviews

Fascinating, well-written saga-autobiography of the life tenor-sax-composer-Jazz Master Benny Golson. Born and brought up in Philadelphia, Benny meets John Coltrane who has just arrived in Philly from North Carolina, and they hold practice jam sessions at Benny's, supported by his single-mom's love for jazz. Notable for stories of how Benny composed "Stablemates, I Remember Clifford" as well as "Whisper Not" -- Benny also comments on his peers, including today's young musicians. Highly Recommended

This is a long awaited book by one of the most lucid members of the golden generation of musicians who came up in the post-war boom in Jazz. Benny speaks with warmth, frankness and humor about Earl Bostic, John Coltrane, Philly Joe Jones, Tadd Damerom, Miles Davis, Art Blakey, Curtis Fuller and many others as well as his own enormous contribution to music. A few odd slips of memory are harmless and don't interfere with Benny's great though flow and memories of so many people and events in what was arguably one of the most important eras of Jazz Music.

This book was recommended to me by a jazz sax friend. Plus again it arrived in great condition.

What a Great Artist! If you love Jazz History and Classic Jazz this is for you!
